

Timp Cave Closed Through Tuesday

8 July 1985

Timpanogos Cave will be closed through Tuesday while a new transformer is installed, according to William Wellman, superintendent at the cave.

Anyone wishing to visit the cave should contact officials before making the trip.

R. Paul Larsen, vice president for Extension, said the changeover is designed to improve administration of the statewide program. The state will be divided now into the northern, central east and southwest districts.

"This change will help us improve the service we provide to residents of the state," Larsen said. USU Extension, using county extension personnel and on-campus specialists, helps meet local needs in the areas of agriculture, home economics, natural resources, 4-H
